

THE PERILS OF THE SEA.

REPORT ON THE LOSS OF THE STEAMER CHAMPION.

The Lady Octavia Exonerated from All Blame—No Tidings yet of the Steamer Wabano.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—The report of the local board of the steam vessel inspectors concerning the collision the 7th inst. between the steamer Champion and the British ship Lady Octavia, declares that the disaster was wholly due to the absence of the proper lookout on the Champion. The board is of the opinion that the fault rests mainly with R. Y. Leonard, first mate of the Champion, and if he had survived his action should have been condemned in severe terms.

Evidence shows that it was Lady Octavia that ran into the Champion, but that under the evidence the officers of the Octavia should be exonerated from all blame. The Champion appears to have been fully equipped with life saving appliances, and the loss of life would not have been so serious had the steamer kept aloft a few minutes longer. Credit is given to the officers and crew of the Lady Octavia for the prompt manner in which they went to the rescue of the passengers and crew of the wrecked steamer.

NO TIDINGS OF THE WABANO.
TORONTO, Nov. 26.—No tidings have yet been received of the Wabano. Three of the tugs are making a search along the coast of the Georgian Bay, but no tidings have been received. The tug is not expected to reach any port before to-day. There is great excitement in Collingwood over the probable fate of the vessel, as all the officers and crew were residents of that town.

A Challenge from the Bonanza Men.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—The Post this evening publishes the following: Maurice Heich, a well known operator, arrived from Virginia City yesterday. He brings the following verbal proposition from John W. Mackey, of the Bonanza mine, to Colonel Deane: "I will give you $50,000 if you find such bonanzas in the mines you talk of (Ophir, Hale & Norcross, Yellow Jacket), provided you pay for the work for the time being until they are found. If you find the three bonanzas as stated I will give you back the $50,000 and your expenditures and will pay you $50,000 as a reward for your services." The above proposition was made to the Colonel yesterday, and he replied: "Tell Mr. Mackey to put his proposition into writing, and I will accept for myself and for the Post. He has since telegraphed the answer to Mr. Mackey."

The Persian Question.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—A correspondent of the Daily News, at St. Petersburg, says: The Golos publishes a leading editorial article showing a marked change of feeling here toward Persia. Evidently the relations between the two countries are not now on a cordial or even friendly footing. The tone of the Golos article seems to confirm recent intelligence of a misunderstanding between England and Persia, and of the tendency of the Russian Government to look to Persia rather than to England for its ally.

Litigation Over a Silver Mine.

PUEBLO, Col. Nov. 26.—The litigation has broken out worse than ever over the Bull Doming mine, of Cedar Cliff, Shafter, who sold the mine to Land & Dorsey, of New York, and who was to have one-fourth of the mine, and that the parties attempted to freeze him out after securing the title to the property. He has attached the mine, asked for a receiver and brought suit for two hundred thousand dollars damages.

Cool Miners Strike.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 25.—The miners employed by the operators of this city, and engaged in the Stratisville, Hocking and Shawnee regions, will probably go on a general strike to-day. They are arranging a mass meeting of miners to take action in regard to the reduced rate, and it is very likely that no work will be done in these mines for several days.

The Porter Murder Case.

GALVESTON, Tex., Nov. 26.—A New York Herald article states that the case of the State vs. Perry, for the murder of Porter, was again postponed until April, on account of the absence of witnesses from New York. A fine of five hundred dollars each was entered against Barrymore, Miss Cummins and Harvey, they having forfeited their recognizances.

The Weldon Shooting Case.

PETERSBURG, Va., Nov. 26.—The counsel in the case of the Commonwealth vs. John W. Merritt who shot and killed E. M. Hicks, at Weldon, have waived the examining trial and put the case off until the third term of the county court of Halifax, N. C., for final hearing, and the prisoner was remanded to jail until that time.

Cable Shares.

The Pennsylvania Bribery Cases.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 26.—In the legislative bribery trial this morning Judge Pearson over-ruled the motion made by Mr. Lambertson yesterday to quash the array of the defendants in the August term of the court. A motion was then made by Mr. Herr to quash the indictment, which is being argued by him this afternoon.

Suspension of Business.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Tomorrow being a legal holiday business will be suspended on the stock exchange, and in financial and commercial circles generally.

The Russian Empress Health.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—A dispatch from Rome to the Times says the Empress of Russia, whose ill health suggested her removal from Cannes to Florence, has been obliged to postpone her journey on account of increased sickness.

Mr. Gladstone Speaks.

EDINBURGH, Nov. 26.—Mr. Gladstone, on receiving a liberal address here, made a long speech. He insisted that the dissolution of Parliament ought to have taken place now, but said that Grant abstained therefrom, because it knows that country is against it, and also because it desires to be free from the influence of England and Europe over its affairs.

From Afghanistan.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—A dispatch from Kabul to the Standard says the winter there is very cold, the thermometer marking 20 degrees frost. Most of the European troops have been sheltered in huts. Telegraphic communication with Kabul and Candahar is now open, and the morning papers publish dispatches from both those points dated yesterday.

The Catholics and the Public Schools.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—An announcement is made by the Standard that the Roman Catholic Church in New England toward the public schools. The Archbishop following the advice of the Pope to a European bishop, has directed all the priests in the arch diocese of New England to at once to establish parochial schools, and to refuse to patronize them with the influence of the public schools is thought to be particularly injurious to Catholic youth, the priests are instructed to withdraw the children at once, even if there be no parochial schools in the vicinity.

Gortschakoff's Opposition.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—A dispatch from Vienna to the Daily Telegraph says: Gortschakoff, the Russian foreign minister, is now returning to St. Petersburg with the fixed object of preventing the nomination of Prince Walovitch to the office of foreign minister, resisting the partisans of what is known in Russia as the western policy.

Mr. J. Nichols, of our place, is building a new house, and is now engaged in the construction of a fine building on the top of the Walnut Mountain, near the Chestnut Flats, and is clearing for a fine tobacco crop.

It is proposed that there be a fair for the display of fine tobacco, at the Madison warehouse early in February, with a number of handsome premiums for the finest grades. It is thought that there will be the largest display of fine tobacco ever collected together at one time in this country.

The estate of Henry East & Co., of Greensboro, N. C., delivered on the 7th inst., to different parties in this county, $250 worth of fine fruit trees, and it is entirely safe for the holders of Virginia bonds to rely upon his prompt exercise of the veto power in case the McCulloch bill shall be repealed by the incoming Legislature of the State. His declaration that even the public educational system of Virginia should be dispensed with, is a very serious matter to satisfy any one that Governor Holliday is the right man in the right place.

Four Children Burned to Death. The house of one George Keaton, colored, on G. Z. French's "Excelsior" plantation, at Rocky Point, Pender county, was accidentally destroyed by fire on Monday last about 12 o'clock, and his four children perished in the flames. It seems that the father was off at work and the mother visiting somewhere in the neighborhood, the children being left alone in the house, the oldest being a boy above seven years of age, and the other three ranging from an infant up to six or six years of age. The body of the oldest boy was found outside the house, reclining in a corner of the fence, while the unrecognized remains of the other children were found among the ruins of the burnt building. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed that the clothing of the boy caught fire, and that in trying to extinguish it, he set fire to the house and finally escaped into the yard, where he perished.

IN THE TOLLS.

A Queer Experience—Wanted to Invest in Counterfeit Money.

Baltimore Sun.

A man apparently sixty years of age, who gave his name, and said he came from Pinksburg, Carroll county, Md., where he has lived forty years, yesterday visited Police Marshal Gray, at Baltimore police headquarters, and had some queer admissions about counterfeit money. Marshal Gray is authority for the statement that the man came to Baltimore last week and called on a fruit street restaurant keeper, who, he said, he had been told by a horse trader in the country, would sell him the counterfeit money he wanted.

The restaurant keeper, who thought his would-be customer was perhaps a little off in the head, told him again and again, "No time, no time, no time," and finally, however, the old man returned, and said he came to buy the counterfeit.

He took the man into a back room and told him to wait until he brought a man who would sell him all the money he wanted. The restaurant man in a short time came back with Chief Detective Crane, who introduced the man to his country friend as the boss of the counterfeiters. Chief Crane carried on the deception, and a night told him to wait until he brought a man who would sell him all the money he wanted.

The old man then went to some pains to tell how successful he had previously been in the nefarious trade. He said he had sold a great lot of counterfeit money in one and two, as larger denominations were not easily handled in the country. He admitted that he had been smart enough not to get caught. He stated that he had a fresh stock of counterfeit money on receipt of a circular offering to sell the greenbacks desired. He found the money to be a good deal better than the money he had sold before, and he was very much pleased with the result of the sale.

He said he had been in the business for some time, but was now ready to make an attempt to enter the railroad department, and rates for a stock of the stuff, and Deputy Marshal Gray pulled a counterfeit $20 and $5 note from a drawer. The $5 note is exactly executed, and has sent a man to the penitentiary. This note was enthusiastically received by the man, who said he wanted to trade for a lot of them at once, but his ardor was restrained, and after the Marshal had pumped him dry of information, he was released.

Only then did he begin to suspect that he had gone into the wrong shop, but he had to stay. At night, when the police entered the restaurant, they found the man, and he was taken back to the marshal's office, and Marshal Gray made him a statement of his own words. He said he had been in the business for some time, but was now ready to make an attempt to enter the railroad department, and rates for a stock of the stuff, and Deputy Marshal Gray pulled a counterfeit $20 and $5 note from a drawer.

NATIONAL CURRENCY.

REPORT OF THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY.

Resumption and its Results—Ten Years of Financial History—The National Banks.

The report of Comptroller Knox, after giving a preliminary chapter in the history of the operations of his office during the past year, discusses at considerable length the subject of resumption and its results, and the substitution of coin and bank notes in place of legal-tender notes. The Comptroller, after giving the legislation, the means and conditions by which resumption was accomplished, says:

The Comptroller has for a series of years presented in his reports a table showing the amount of Treasury notes and of national bank notes outstanding at the dates named therein, with the current price of the gold and silver coins, and the value of the gold and silver coins at the same dates.

On July 1, 1864, $100 in gold was worth $28 in Treasury notes; on August 31, 1865, the value of the gold and silver coins was at its maximum, it was worth more than $144, and on January 1, 1870, $100 in gold was worth $100 in Treasury notes.

During the last ten years the average amount of coin held in the Treasury has been about $100,000,000, while the average amount held in the reserves of the banks, which was largely composed of special deposits, and subject to special check of the depositor, was less than $25,000,000.

During the whole period, gold coins have been used by the banks, in comparatively small amounts, as a reserve, and by the people, only in the payment of current duties, and in the purchase of foreign exchange. If it was used for other purposes, it was first converted into paper money.

At present the National Bank note has been generally preferred in business transactions to coin itself. The old coins of this country, giving the amount and kinds of currency in circulation, are now obsolete, and must be superseded by new ones, which will be issued by the Treasury.

The total amount of the circulating medium, which is the subject of the report, is estimated by the Comptroller at $1,165,553,504. The amount of coin in the Treasury is $1,165,553,504.

NOTICE.

To-day being the day set apart by Nation and State authorities as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and the employees of the News being desirous to avail themselves of its benefits, work will be suspended and no paper issued to-morrow.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Two marriage licenses issued yesterday.
The Federal Court adjourns over Thanksgiving.
The Catholic Fair still continues with assured success.
No northern mail last night - missed connections in London.
The hotels feel the influx of visitors here in attendance on court.
A troupe of strolling musicians enlivened Martin street yesterday.
Brewster is out with a card calling attention of the ladies to his new fryer.
No paper to-morrow. The composers are off hunting for somebody's turkeys.

A chance for the children at the "Midgits" matinee. The hours are from 10 till 12.

Cotton. Our market was again active on yesterday and prices again advanced and closed at 11 1/2 cents.

A colored man was lodged in jail yesterday for a too intimate knowledge of the mysteries of "drunk poker."

General Mite is one of the contestants for the gold-headed cane, to be balloted for at the Catholic Fair.

Raleigh is fast dropping its provincial airs. We have a live Italian count running a movable peanut shop, roaster and all.

All the members of Center Lodge, No. 3, K. of P., are urged to meet at their Castle Hall to-night at 7 o'clock. Be sure to attend.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of St. John's Guild will be held at the reading room this evening at 8 o'clock. A full meeting is desired.

The post office will be open to-day from 7:45 to 9:30, A. M., and from 1:30 to 2:30 P. M. The office on all week days hereafter, except holidays, will open at 7:45 A. M., and close at 6 P. M.

Mrs. C. H. Houston, Ore. Hill, N. C.; William T. Boyd, 33 Maple street, Cleveland, Ohio, and Ephraim Miller, Wikesboro, N. C., all have letters held in the postoffice in this place for insufficient postage.

Job Osborn, as he sits in his perch up grocery near the depot, views with complacency his rapidly diminishing coal and wood piles, as he knows where to get more. Orders by telephone promptly attended to.

Constable Orr, of Charlotte, arrived in Raleigh yesterday with Lanier, colored, sentenced by the Inferior Court to the penitentiary for three years for barn burning. The other convicts of the court will be taken to work on the public roads of the county.

One of the most attractive places in Raleigh is Messrs. A. Fred Williams & Co.'s Bookstore. Their beautiful line of children's books, and other nice things for holiday presents, are so new and pretty that you will be repaid for making a visit to the bookstore to look at them.

From the preparations being made by the boys for a grand hunt to-day, it is reasonably to be expected that the man with the most stock of wild game for three weeks to come. Everything in the line of a "wepon," from a Queen Anne's musket down to a horse pistol, and all other nice things for the hunt are being filled with joy.

Complimentary Hop.
The Monday night Club will to-morrow evening, at the National Hotel, give a complimentary hop to Mrs. Branch Merrimon and Mrs. Perrin Busbee.

Agricultural Fair.
The last of the agricultural fairs for the State is the Sampson County Fair, which commences on the 30th proximo and ends on the 1st of December. It is rather late in the season for such exhibitions.

A Trap Set for Us.
The father of "Pretty Peggy O'Neill," the famous Mrs. Eaton, who died recently, aged eighty-one, and whose granddaughter is married to one of the Rothschilds, was the keeper of an eating house. Peggy was the toast of the establishment. - Observer.

The "Midgits."
The extraordinary excitement created among our people by the daily exhibition of the "Midgits" at the Raleigh Hotel is something phenomenal. Each afternoon and evening large numbers attend their levees, and the satisfaction, the amusement and the gratification seem complete. They seem to win their way into the hearts of the young and old alike. As the St. Louis Republic says: "There is no reason to be critical to an exhibition, simply because it has not, and never did have, a parallel in the annals of history."

Yesterday afternoon they gave a free exhibition to the inmates of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum. See advertisement of hours of exhibition.

Dr. Blackall's Gorgeous Lily.
Every one knows that mine host of the Yarbrough is a great lover of flowers. He has two or three handsome callas, and feeling much pride in them he volunteered to show them to some lady friends. Leading the way to his private parlor he decanted in glowing terms on his floral pets. They stood and viewed them with delight for a few moments, and then one of the ladies went to give it a closer examination, when up popped the head of General Mite from inside the wavy, creamy petals, and "Good afternoon, ladies!" caused general surprise.

Mayor's Court.
Raleigh is noted for fast horses; some of them can go a mile in several hours, others make the distance in a trifle less time. One gentleman, not realizing that his speed was that of the whirlwind, slightly exceeded the conventional and statutory three miles an hour in the streets, and was brought up with a round turn and lost a wager of $3 to the city.

A country gentleman, bewildered with the strange and awe-inspiring sights about the city, accepted Uncle Dave's hospitalities for the space of twelve hours.

Peace Institute (Cook's) School.
Mrs. Helen W. Campbell, of Peace Institute, gave an exhibition of her class of twenty-two young ladies last evening. The room was fitted up with a portable range, two gas stoves and all the necessary appliances for carrying out the perfected plan. She opened the exhibition with three lectures on the science of Cookery, which were explanatory of what was to follow. On the black-board was the bill of fare, made up of five articles, with the recipes for combining and cooking. Afterward three girls went through a course of making loaves of white and brown bread. Altogether, it was a novel and instructive sight.

The Dime Party.
There was large attendance at the Dime Party last evening, given under the auspices of the Ladies' Home Mission Society, of which Mrs. Judge J. A. Jones is president, and Mrs. W. S. Primrose is secretary. The refreshments were served in good style, and everything passed off most pleasantly. The receipts amounted to some $80, which will be devoted to the aid of the Presbyterian church at Wilson.

Married.
At Louisburg, Franklin county, at 2 o'clock P. M., yesterday, 26th instant, by the Rev. John W. Primrose, Mr. J. A. Jones, of Raleigh, and Miss Spencer of Louisburg. Following are the names of the attendants: Miss Lila Steegal and Mr. George Brown; Mr. Frank Williams, Miss Dora Cook and N. A. Steelman; Miss Mary Yarbrough and Mr. D. H. Crow, and Miss Ella Andrews and Dr. Walter Cook. This is Thanksgiving Day, a day appointed by both church and State as a day of prayer and thanksgiving to Almighty God for the fruits of the earth and all other blessings of His merciful Providence. There will be appropriate services at the church of the Good Shepherd at 11 o'clock with a sermon by Bishop Lyman.

Thanksgiving Services.
A thanksgiving service will be held in Christ Church this (Thursday) morning at 11 o'clock. The offerings of the congregation - as is usual in this church on that day - will be devoted to the noble charity, the Oxford Orphan Asylum, now entirely dependent on every voluntary contribution of the public for its maintenance. In the enjoyment of our countless blessings let us not forget these fatherless and motherless ones - God's poor and orphaned brethren. In proportion to the sincerity of our thanksgiving will be the liberality of our almsgiving.

Thanksgiving Festivities.
A stranger in a strange land when the winter holidays come on, and Thanksgiving may be rightly classed as a day of longings for home comforts and delicacies that are attendant at such seasons. There are such strangers in our midst who are unavoidably absent from the hearthstone gathering, and it is as much for this class as regular patrons that our city landlords entertain and enjoyable.

To-day C. H. Lewellen, steward of the Yarbrough, has put his best foot forward in his efforts to entertain the guests of that house. His bill of fare is extensive, consisting of soups, fish, turkeys, ducks and chickens, with all the "fixings" in its most varied shapes to suit the daintiest palate, and a royal dessert. Those who know Mr. Lewellen's previous achievements will not be disappointed in his efforts to-day.

The National will not be a whit behind in its spread. With its present well organized force the cuisine will be most excellent and will undoubtedly give unqualified satisfaction to those who make this favorite house their home. The Captain has been fattening his turkeys for some time, and last evening the slaughter of the innocents took place. These, with the usual accessories of chickens, ducks, etc., will make a dinner fit for a king or an editor.

As business generally will be suspended, those who find it convenient can avail themselves of the hospitalities of the above-named houses.
